The following resource has been adapted from Meriam Library, California State University–Chico, to meet the needs of lab report writers. Evaluate your peer-reviewed articles based on the five major criteria: currency, relevance, authority, accuracy, and purpose. Use the list of questions as a guideline to evaluate your sources.